

Vital processes in a natural environment

Spagyric crystalline images represent a reliable visualisation of the quality of the vital energy. It is possible to reproduce these pictures at any time, and they clearly convey the differences between disorder and order:

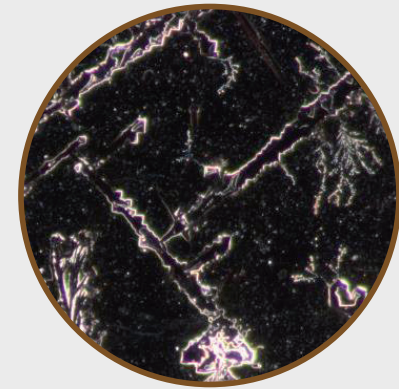

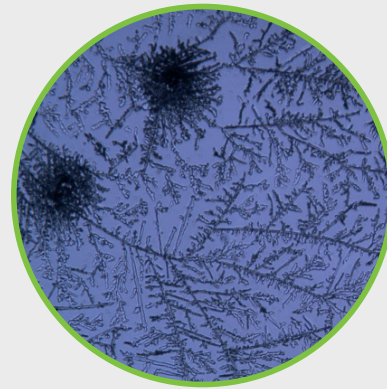

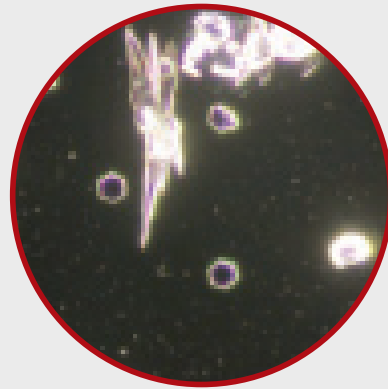

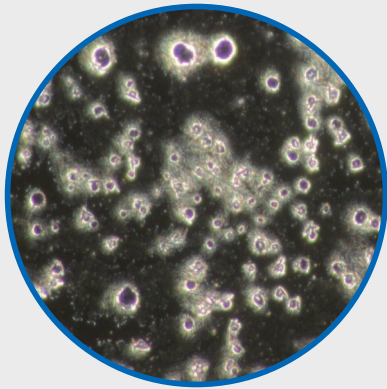

Water

Grape

Apple

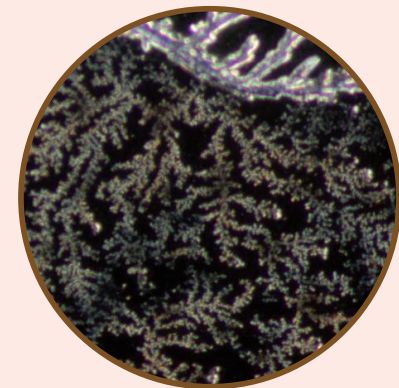

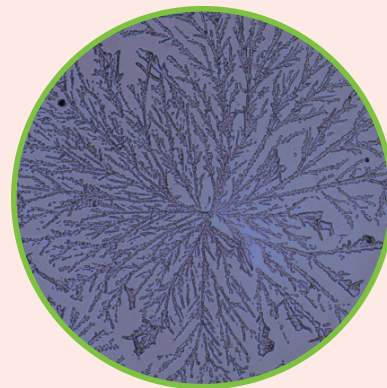

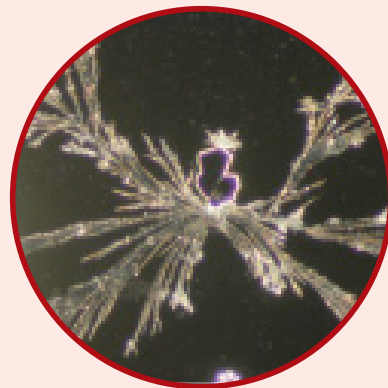

Slurry

Disorder

conventional: generally undifferentiated small crystals, lack of structure, no formation

Order

with PLOCHER: fine-structured and naturalistic crystals, oscillated on a broad axis, uniform specimens which are well-known as a symbol of vitalising energy.
